The Old Dominion

Petersburg.—The sale in the post office at Drewrys Bluff, Chesterfield county, on the Atlantic Coast Line, was blown open by yeggmen. The loot amounted to about $300 and consisted of stamps and checks. The postoffice is located in the railway depot.

University.—A total of 1,883 students from twenty-eight States and eight foreign countries has been registered for the first term of the University of Virginia summer quarters. Virginia leads the list with 1,459 students in the university classes.

Freeling.—The new school building at this place has just been completed by Eustace Dotson, contractor and builder, of Clintwood. This building adds materially to the appearance of the place. It is given the name of Haynes School, in view of the fact that the Hayneses are the oldest family in the community.

Lynchburg.—The first unit of the Virginia State Baptist Hospital will be thrown open here for reception of patients July 12, July 10 and 11 being days set apart for the dedication of the institution. A second unit and a home for nurses is to be built at once. The hospital is provided for out of funds arising from the Southern Baptist $75,000,000 drive.

Danville.—The Danville Traction and Power Company has begun instructing the people in the method of entering and leaving one-man street cars, soon to be in operation here. The actual date of manning the cars with one man has not been set and will depend upon the alacrity with which the public "catches on" to the innovation, traction company officials said.

Roanoke.—S. E. Austin, of West Virginia, was instantly killed and Charles M. Broun, former Mayor of this city, was slightly injured when an automobile in which they were ascending a mountain road near Gretna ran on the edge of a bank, which caved in, causing the automobile to turn over twice. Mr. Austin was in charge of an engineering project in which Mr. Broun is interested.

Strasburg.—The first appearance of the Shenandoah county Ku Klux Klan in Strasburg was the occasion of the gathering of hundreds of people to view the ceremony. No hour was set for the ceremony, so great numbers of people gathered at an early hour and remained through the initiation ceremonies, which were held on a high hill overlooking the town.

Freeling.—Partridges appear to be slightly on the increase in and adjacent to the Cumberlands. These mountains afford the birds more secure coverts than the more open grounds do, and so, they escape the reckless slaughter of the sportsman to some extent. It appears that the laws are not strictly enforced against those who violate them by slaughtering the game birds and animals.

Winchester.—Some of the residents of Winchester have more water and sewer connections than they have been paying for, it has been discovered during early stages of a water and sewer survey being conducted by City Manager Dettra, and they are to be charged accordingly, it was stated. Investigators have found that many householders have been using more water than they pay for, also making unlawful use of the sewer system.

Richmond.—Virginia maintained its position as a national shipper of apples, cabbage, and strawberries during the season just brought to a close, ranking third in twp and second in strawberries. In the case of apples and strawberries the State materially increased its carload shipments. The cabbage season reported to date is that of early cabbage. Virginia is also a shipper of fall cabbage. The out lot shipments of apples from Virginia to June 21, 1924, total 9,339 compared with 6,969 cars to the corresponding date last year and 6,975 for the entire season. The total shipments for this season total 133,526 cars compared with 112,271 last year. The new apple crop has started to move, 32 cars having been shipped to date. During the present season Virginia almost doubled its car-lot shipments of strawberries, forwarding 1,358 cars against 712 last year. During the spring cabbage movement the State shipped 1,711 cars compared with 2,182 last year.

Winchester.—The Virginia State Pharmacists' Association, which held its annual convention a few days ago at Natural Bridge, has named a committee on time and place of next meeting to visit half a dozen places from which invitations were received. These include Winchester, Virginia Beach, Blue Ridge Springs, Bristol and Natural Bridge. These places will be visited within the next thirty days and representatives of rival bodies interviewed to ascertain what the cities and towns seeking the 1925 convention have to offer.

Danville.—The State Corporation Commission has granted a charter to the Payne-Wyatt Sales Company, Inc., of this city. The maximum capital stock is $50,000, and the minimum is $10,000. L. R. Wyatt is president; Thomas R. Carter, vice-president, and E. E. Payne, secretary and treasurer.

Alexandria.—The suicide of Arthur M. Rainer, held as a principal witness in the case of Charles Kendall, who is charged with the murder of Dr. Robert L. Powell, is believed to have removed the one witness believed to have known the facts in the affair between Kendall and the physician. Rainer ended his life at the home of his parents Saturday, blowing off the top of his head with a shotgun. Rainer was under bond of $1,000 as a material witness to the shooting of Powell, and despondency over his alleged part in the events preceding the killing of Dr. Powell is believed to have prompted him to take his life.

Winchester.—Women of Clarke county voiced their loyalty to the cause of Democracy, before national standard-bearers were named by the Democratic National Convention in New York. At a meeting at Berryville, presided over by Miss Rose McIlwaid, Judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court, the women went on record as favoring the organization of a Democratic campaign club at once. It was decided to hold another meeting on Friday, when the club will be organized and addressed by Mrs. E. L. Wunder, of Winchester.

Danville.—Mrs. Lula Thacker, 102, probably one of the oldest persons in this section of the country, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Parrett, at Schoolfield. She was born in Leaksville, N. C., where she has lived all her life. Despite her advanced age, of which there is definite record, she is active and in full possession of her faculties. She has been a member of the Methodist church for more than eighty-five years and still attends services. She intends making her home in Winston-Salem, N. C., with one of her children, after completing her visit in this section.

Luray.—George Cave, known as "the Bad Man of the Blue Ridge," was captured on the public road between Shenandoah, this county, and Elkton, Rockingham county, Sunday night by Sheriff Dove, of Rockingham. Two United States deputy marshals and two constables, Cave has been hunted for a long time as a "two-gun man," and it was believed that rather than surrender he would die with his boots on. However, the capture was effected without difficulty, the officers swooping down on him and having handcuffs on the man before he realized that anything unusual was happening.

Winchester.—Nurses of Winchester Memorial Hospital who were presented with diplomas at the conclusion of their three-year pupil courses were: Miss Grace Walsh, Rochester, N. Y.; Miss Esther Household, Eagles Mere, Pa.; Miss Margaret Cadwallader, Stephens City, Va.; Miss Anna Booth, Strasburg, Va.; Miss Nora Hollen, Keyser, W. Va., and Miss Grace Barrick, Edinburg, Va. Miss Anna MacMillan, of Canada, who has been superintendent here for the last year, has resigned, effective in August, to become assistant superintendent of a hospital at Fairfield, Ala.

Covington.—Delegates to the State Firemen's Convention, in Harrisonburg August 16, 19 and 21 were elected and plans discussed for the training of the reel teams to compete in the reel races at the convention at a meeting of the fire department here Saturday night. The following firemen were elected delegates: H. W. Robertson, president; Orpha Cook, Kolt, V. W. Loving, J. H. Overholt, secretary; J. R. McMurran, treasurer, and G. R. Alexander, second warden. The alternates elected were: P. C. Jesser, chief; Lawrence Redd, foreman; J. W. Craig, hook and ladder commander; Leroy Thacker and Lloyd Steele.

Danville.—Russell Bowen, 25, died at a South Boston hospital from injuries sustained when he was struck in the side by a fragment of wood which flew from a planing machine in the plant of the Boston Planing and Building Corporation. The piece of wood wounded him in the side, but a preliminary examination made at the hospital failed to reveal a serious hurt and it was decided to defer any extensive examination until he recovered from the shock. Friday physicians had developed, showing that the missile had penetrated more deeply than thought. A Richmond surgeon was sent for post haste, but the young man died a few minutes before the doctor arrived. He was unmarried, and is survived by his parents, three brothers and three sisters.

South Hill.—A normal acreage of tobacco is predicted for the present year by warehouse men and business men interviewed in a trip made by the heads of the bright tobacco belt. The rents covered started from Petersburg, passing through Dinwiddie, Nottoway and Lunenburg counties to South Hill in Mecklenburg county. The weather has been found unfavorable for crop production here as in other parts of the State. In predicting a normal crop of tobacco for this territory, a larger acreage than last year is expected.

Constitution Sets Age Limit

No man or woman can be a member of the house of representatives until he or she is twenty-five years old, while you must attain the age of thirty years to be a United States senator, and be thirty-five years old, if you want to be president, and be a native-born American, these rules are all set forth in the Constitution of the United States.

The Wise Man.

Opportunity knocking at the front door has given way to the wolf in many a man's life because he allowed disease to creep in through the back door. The wise man looks first to the health of himself and family and after that to the less difficult matter of making a living.

Farmer's Pest

(By H. L. Hendrickson)

There's a corn worm for the corn;
The boll weevil for the cotton;
And when you get your tobacco planted,
The cut-worm comes a-rotten.
The bud-worm, tho small he be,
Can play havoc with tobacco;
And those who raise the weed tell you
That the horn-worm is no slacker.
Then there's the flea-bug for the melon plants
Whose small, he can eat'm up you see;
He likes the tender parts of your tobacco plants
And he's a pesky critter, too.
Now the mole's a destructive little pest,
So's his cousin, the field mouse;
And if you look into the sky
You'll see that pesky crow a-loom.
Then 'n the crow and there's the hawk,
As keen as any sharpen-wit;
And there's that baneful little cuss a-cure,
That plain old hare rat.
Now, I'll like to state here briefly,
And I'm sure you won't deny
That no pest's in no aggravating
Than that common 'n' house fly.
Now when the farmer thinks of all these pests
No wonder he becomes so blue,
But if on his bed he lie to rest,
He'll find the bed-bug right there too.

Summer Hints for Young Mothers

The Modern Practice In "Summer Complaint"

"Looseness" is frequent in summer because children will eat unripe and overripe fruit raw vegetables and other indigestible food.

Fermentation follows quickly. Sometimes, there is fever, pain or vomiting, and nearly always a diarrhoea, which simply means that nature is trying to clear out the poison and gas.

The old idea—a serious mistake—was to check it with blackberry or some other astringent. What is needed is a cathartic. Hurry up with the cleaning-out process. Then give a lighter diet for a while.

Castor oil is good, but better still is liv-o-lax, which does the work thoroughly, and the children like to take it. You can get a good-sized bottle at the drug store for 30c.

The TIMES-VIRGINIAN one year $1.50.

1. Jesus the Son of God. Jesus Anointed servant who so fully and completely did God's will is the Son of God's Son.

2. Jesus Forerunner (vv. 2-8).

(1) He was (vv. 2-3). He was sent. His mission was to prepare the way for God's Servant. He was more than a thousand years before he came.

(2) His Work (vv. 3-8). He was the Way of the Lord" by calling to repent from their sins, baptizing which hinders the way of the Lord. He was a preacher of pride and to humble themselves, to repent of their sins, but to give the repentance.

(3) His Message. To prepare for the coming of Christ the people were to repent and those who repented were to be baptized. Baptism was administered to those who repented as an expression of their confidence which in the forgiveness of sin.

(3) The Coming of Christ (vv. 7, 8). This coming was to be much greater than that of John. This superior dignity not only in His person but in the work He was to perform. John baptized with water but Jesus was to be the baptizer with the Holy Ghost.

II. His Service (v. 5). People from all over Judea and from Jerusalem went out and were baptized. John's dress and deportment were in keeping with the stern mission. His food and dress indicated that he had withdrawn from the world as a protest against its follies and sins.

III. The Baptism of the Servant (vv. 9-11).

While the forerunner was discharging his office Jesus emerged from his seclusion at Nazareth and demanded baptism at John's hands.

1. Its Significance.

Negatively. It was not because He had sinned for He was absolutely sinless, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners. This separation was so complete that even the Devil could find no occasion against Him. (John 14:30).

Positively. Its significance is found in harmony with the purposes of His coming into the world, which was to secure for His people salvation through death and resurrection. This act was His official entrance upon His work. It was an act of consecration on his part to the work of saving His people through sacrifice. While baptism is a sinner's ordinance, He was baptized, not because He had sinned, but because He took the place of sinners. He was so devoted to them that He entered upon His mission by submitting to the ordinance which typified death and resurrection. In this He also knew to sin was made sin for us that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him (II Cor. 5:21).

2. Approval From the Open Heavens (vv. 10, 11). Immediately following His consecration in His work the heavens were opened and the Spirit came and abode upon Him, followed by the words of approval from the Father. All these were essential for the work upon which He was entered.
